CHAPTER IV.
WILL-O'-THE-WISPS.
JOHN H. BRADY and two others had been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the Hanier murder, and Brady had been identified by one of the French boarders as a member of the gang that had attempted to rob the till at nine o'clock the evening before. This was the situation at noon, on the thirtieth of December, and the morning papers of the next day contained full accounts of the arrest, and a word of editorial commendation of the promptness of the police.
Meanwhile Brady, immediately after, and with much warmth and earnestness, protested that he had never in his life committed a murder, and least of all on the particular occasion referred to. And in proof of it he affirmed that he had been half a mile away at the time. As it happened, there was a Grand Ledesirian Go-as-you-please Contest in progress at the Madison Square Garden at this epoch: and Brady would have it that he went there early in the evening and remained all night. He faithfully engaged, he claimed as an alibi.
But nobody believed him. He was a tall and muscular young fellow, with a boy's face on his big shoulders, but he looked hagged and anxious, and he was known to be given to midnight prowlings, and to making the rounds with the "boys." The latter evidence was confirmed by his customer rather than to assist the police: for although many of the knights of the three balls are respectable enough, others of them are little if any better than the thieves and vagabonds from whom they derive the bulk of their profits.
Accordingly, the inspector based his instructions to the detectives on the theory of robbery.
"I have made a list, here, of some stolen articles," he said, "Among them is an enamelled watch and 42-dollar revolver. Those last have probably been pawned. I want you to go to the pawnbrokers' offices and examine the list of pledges received between the dates of December 28 and to-day. Make a note of all you find, and watch and of every pistol recorded on those days. Omit nothing, and as soon as you have completed your work report to me."
The two detectives took the sheet of paper and withdrew.
"Now then," muttered the inspector to himself as he put away in a private drawer the bullet taken from Hanier's body, "let me find the revolver which that ball fits and it will go hard if I don't by my hand on the man who fired it, as well."
It was now late, and the chief detective, whose habit was to keep late hours, was stretching himself for the murder, prepared to go home and get some rest. But it was decreed that his vigil should not yet come to an end. He had just taken his hat to depart when the doorkeeper announced that the Shambling Man desired an audience.
"Admit him," said the inspector, laconically, resuming his seat.
The Shambling Man entered. There was a sparkle of confidence and satisfaction in his eye.
"Anything new?" the inspector inquired.
"Something rather new," returned the Shambling Man, modestly.
"Important?"
"It may prove of very considerable importance, I think."
"From whom did you get it?"
"From a woman—a friend of Mrs. Hanier. She has made a discovery which adds a very significant chapter to the testimony. I have just come from her."
"That sounds well," said the inspector, from whom all traces of fatigue had vanished as if by magic. "Sit down and let us hear it."
The Shambling Man sat down and cleared his throat.

IS OBESITY THE RESULT OF RICH DIET?
Fat begins to accumulate as soon as the system has attained its full development, and will go on increasing if not checked. Nothing short of loss of life will stop it again to decrease. Independently of the importance of fat as a non-conducting substance in impeding the too rapid escape of animal heat, it may be regarded as a store of material to compensate for waste of tissue under sickness or other circumstances entailing temporary abstinence from food. Most writers consider that obesity is promoted by a rich dietary, corporeal inactivity, tranquility of mind, &c.; and, although admitting these to be conducive to the formation of fat, I am of opinion, writes Mr. F. C. Russell, the inventor of "Sanitas Fluid, Powder & Soaps" (Sanitas" pegs), which is the title of a book now going through the press with the eighteenth edition, that obesity arises from such causes as the above, combined with a diseased state of the system which independently of all these influences will increase the production and deposition of fat. In support of this gentleman's opinion, Mr. Russell, however, does not leave his readers who suffer from obesity "in the lurch," for he prescribes a remedy, and a most effectual one too, consisting solely of herbs, which do not contain a particle of any deleterious ingredient, and which can be reduce a person's weight from 2lbs. to even 10lbs. a week without having to swallow nauseous physic or resort to drastic measures. This excessive production of vegetable effects was not obtained without considerable research and painstaking investigation. It is rather pleasant to talk, three months' use of which will increase reduce from 1lb. to 3lbs. in the short space of twenty-four hours. However, the cost of the book is only four stamps, and can be obtained free by the Mr. Russell, Woburn House, Store Street, London, W.C. There are matters highly interesting to stout persons to be gleaned from the book, and a host of letters (reprinted) from persons describing the particulars and various fluctuating weights after taking so much of the compound. Each one of these letters is a testimonial sort of quack testimonial, but really from intelligent persons who do not merely stopping further increase but actually removing the cause itself. It is marvellous how this "Sanitas" Fluid & Soaps of English discoverers can actually reduce as much as 14 lb. in weight in a week. The price of the remedy, 2/6 book (256 pages) only costs 6d., and he is quite willing to afford all information to those sending as above. It is really a very well worth trying remedy.

HOW TO BECOME THIN AND WELL.
Mr. F. Cecil Russell, of Woburn House, 37, Store Street, Bedford Square, London, W.C., has issued a very useful book (256 pages) on this subject. It deals with the origin of fat, shows the dangers of an excess of fat, and describes a harmless remedies hitherto adopted for reducing fat. The book, which is well worth reading, contains a large number of testimonials from persons who have benefited by Mr. Russell's process. It is now in the press for the seventeenth edition. Its cost is only 6d. stamps. It is most extraordinary how by such means exploded the theories of the medical profession. He claims that as a person becomes more healthy under his treatment he requires more food, yet his weight decreases. He reduces fat at the rate of 10lb. a week or botanical preparations only. Our great Continental "therapeutical" big-wigs" will have to look to their laurels as Russell is likely to cut them.

A POSITIVE REMEDY FOR CORPULENCE.
Any remedy that can be suggested as a cure or alleviating for stoutness must be a boon to mankind, for I have recently received a well-written book, the author of which seems to know what he is talking about. It is entitled "Corpulency, and How to Cure It Safely," and is a cheap issue (only 6d.), published by Mr. F. C. Russell, of Woburn House, Store Street, Bedford Square, London, W.C. Our readers will be justice to this book; send for it yourself. It appears that Mr. Russell has submitted all kinds of proofs to the English press. The editor of the Rede, a Roman Catholic organ, writes:—"Mr. Russell does not give us the weight of testimonials he has to prove the value of his cure; for in the most straightforward and matter-of-fact manner he submitted some hundreds of letters from persons who had been benefited for our perusal, and offered us plenty more, if required. To assist him to make this remedy known, we think we cannot do better than quote from a selection of ten of the letters submitted. The first one, a medicine, writes:—'I am a man of 5ft. 9in., and have reduced his weight in twenty-two days 16 lbs., i.e. 34lb. Another writes: 'So far (six weeks from commencement of your system) I have lost fully two stone in weight.' The next one writes: 'I am just half the size.' A fourth: 'I find it is successful in my case. In eight weeks I lost in weight since I commenced (two weeks).' Another writes: 'I lost 2 stone 6lbs. in a month in a great success.' A lady from Runcorn-month writes: 'I feel much better, have less difficulty in breathing, and can walk about.' Again a lady says:—'It reduced me considerably not only in the weight, but in the size of my clothes.' Another writes: 'Step on a weighing machine on Monday morning and again on Tuesday, and I can guarantee that you have lost 2lbs. in weight without any perceptible harm, and vast improvement in health through ridding the system of unhealthy accumulations."—Cork Herald.

A TRUE BOON.
THE Cynic and Fool says:—"There is nothing new under the sun," but never was a more ominous mistake made. For instance, the wonderful strides that have been made within the last decade in Chemistry, and by the Surgical and Medical Professions and the Chemists of the day, effected that were thought impossible a few years back.
Especially is this noticeable in the case of the Animal World. A few years ago it was a common thing to hear of the slaughter of valuable animals for the slightest accident which in more locked upon as only a temporary ailment that can be cured in a few days by what is the principal secret of this saving of Animal Life? Nothing more or less than the discovery of Mr. Henry of his wonderful WHITE OILS, CONDITION POWDERS, and DRINKS for FOOTBALL NOTES.

By HALF-BACK.

This afternoon the Southern sphere will once more be merrily spinning over the smooth turf in almost every town and village in Suffolk, and the enclosures, which have recently been occupied by the exponents of the national summer game, and the usual motley throng of spectators who watched their performances, will, in each case, be regarded, and the excited crowds eagerly following the fortunes of the teams in which their interests are centered. In short, then, football, the king of games, is once more in season, and thousands of even our phlegmatic "Suffolkers" are eagerly discussing the prospects of the season of 1894-5.

Amongst professionalism, however, the season is already a fortnight old, and all the League clubs, with one exception, have been engaged in later-club struggles — many of them having played three, and one or two four games in these competitions. Interest in the doings of the League clubs is, of course, the combination of tricks in which the clubs themselves are situated; it is in fact national. The careers of the great football organisations are, by reason of the large number of persons in the south and east of England, and Suffolk is no exception to this general rule. Two fresh clubs figure in the first division, viz., Small Heath and Heath, who secured their elevation at the close of last season by defeating Newton Heath and Darwin respectively in trial matches.

The champions, Aston Villa, have started in excellent form, placing four points to their credit in a home and an out fixture. Sunderland has also played two home fixtures, and have thus far not had a single goal scored against them, although they themselves have succeeded eleven in the two games. Everton has played three (two home), and have won all with scores equal to three, thus leading the van with six points. Wolverhampton Wanderers have started badly, having been twice beaten at home and once away, and having had eleven goals to two totalled against them. Thus it will be seen that the strong clubs of last season but fair to take the lead against the new combinations of structure.

In the second division, Notts County have not yet commenced play on account of a months' suspension for the infringement of certain rules of the F.A. Darwen appear to be going off with a rush, holding the exact position at present as they did at the termination of the season's doings in the other division. Burton Wanderers and Bury are also well to the face, but our southern friends—Woolwich Arsenal and Lincoln—are too well. The number of competing clubs have been increased to sixteen, and the two lesser lights, Northwich Victoria, has dropped out, and the Lincoln City, Burslem, and Leicester, have been added. The Ardwick club is now definitely going to fill duty as new organisation known as Manchester City.

But enough of the League clubs. What of our local prospects? Although there are many clubs who have scarcely yet commenced on the serious business of overcoming their opponents, the opening winter months' sport, yet sufficient has already been seen to show that the game is still growing in popularity in our midst. That the Suffolk Association will play an important a part in Suffolk football, have not yet proved their bonnes in order," but the conclusion of the summer vacation of the Suffolk Association, so as to their probable strength at present, and it is useless by it to speculate on their chances of earning distinction.

"Taking first the Ipswich Town Club, which is generally regarded as premier in the county, loath sorry to say that I do not see at present any great hopes of improvement in their team. Of course we may be agreeably surprised by the performances on the part of the recruits who annually are added to the list of playing members, but failing any surprise of this sort happening, I do not see much prospect of improvement in the first team of the club.

"Of one matter for congratulation, however, is the fact that the men will still have the benefit of the guidance of last year's captain, Mr. Fred Turner. His connection with the club dates back to the opening winter, whilst Osborrow, Kent and Radcliffe will still be available. The goal-keeping department will again be in the hands of J. Haward and C. F. Woods, the latter of whom has relinquished the secretaryship, which is now in the hands of F. P. F. Cornell, who will still figure amongst the sticks. I have every confidence that the new "scribe" will be equally as efficient and popular as his predecessor, and with Cornell, Woods, and Haward to fall back upon, the Ipswich goal will be as safe as ever. Of the backs, Bailey, the clever full back, will again one the left and white, but who is to partner him is a question I am unable at present to answer. A good outside left is badly wanted by the club, having unfortunately lost the services of Barnes who proved himself so reliable a man in the position.

This afternoon the "Stripes" take the field against the Middle School Past and Present, and the public will have the opportunity of judging for themselves the material which the new men, who during last season's Past experience would certainly point out a somewhat easy win for the home team, but, nevertheless, the game will doubtless be a keenly contested one, though able crowd should gather at the Portman Road ground to encourage their favourites in the well-known war cries for which Ipswichian lungs are so famous.

Amongst the most important fixtures of the Ipswich Town Club are matches with Casuals, Vampires, Chelmsford, Ealing, St. Mary's Hospital, Brentford, Barking Swifts, Ilford, Olympian, Yarmouth R.A., Thwaite Park, and Clapham Rovers, besides all the leading local clubs.

The Ipswich Middle School, Past and Present, will again sail under the same title as above, by which they were known last season. I, personally—and I have reason to think that my opinion is not by any means singular—prefer the original title of the Club, viz., "The Old Boys," to that under which they now rejoice, as the "Present" element in the Club is comparatively small, but its entire absence. "What's in a name," however? The team will be practically the same as that which carried them through the local league to the County Senior Cup last season, but a good custodian is badly needed. The team, I imagine, will be much as follows:—goal, D. Miller; backs, Case (capt.) and H. Green; half-backs, W. Catchpole, H. Mills, and J. Saunby; forwards, Miller, Johnson, Tibbenham, Staines, and another. The Club's fixtures matches with Framlingham College, Halesworth, Aldeburgh, Alderton, and Parkeston, &c. T. M. Miller is hon. sec. of the Club.

The North Suffolk Clubs are making a step in the right direction in organising a league amongst themselves. This is the very best means of rendering the sport popular on the home circuit. The North Suffolk League is composed of the following Clubs:—Beccles Caxton, Beccles College, Kirkley, Halesworth, Bungay Town, Bungay Grammar School, and Saxmundham, the first five of which are senior Clubs.

Mr. O. Baines, the hon. sec. of Cowell's Club, writes me to the effect that it is their intention to start the season with a charity match on the 22nd inst., for the benefit of Mr. Cowell, Saxmundham is to oppose them, and the game promises to be one of great interest. This is certainly a capital way of opening their new enclosure at Peppermill Farm, and I sincerely trust that the team of 1894-5 may win back some of the past glories of the Club. I might also mention that the Ipswich Town Club propose holding a charity match at no distant date.

I should be glad to receive a brief sketch of the prospects of any Club for the purpose of review, and also lists of fixtures as soon as possible.

The Executive of the Eastern Counties' Rugby Union are very hopeful about their prospects in the County Championship this year, as they have abundance of old and new material to draw from. The first match will be against Hampshire in October. Secretaries who have vacancies for matches should communicate with the hon. secretary, Rev. H. H. P. Sawyer, Highgate School, Middlesex, before September 15th, when the first Committee meeting takes place. Entries for the cup ties should be sent in before December 1st. The Committee hope shortly to effectually settle the question of choice of ground and referee, and so prevent the unfortunate delays which occurred last year.

FREE FIGHT AT BISHOP STORTFORD.

SEQUEL TO AN EAST END BEAN FEAST.

POLICE SEVERELY HANDLED.

At Bishop Stortford on Monday, Ernest Porter, of Kentish Town, Jas. Marsh, of Bow, and Jas. Whistler, of Stratford, were charged, the former with assaulting Police-constable Bird, and Police-constable Hills, and Marsh and Whistler, with being drunk on licensed premises and assaulting Police-constable Hills and Police-constable Bird respectively. The prisoners belonged to a beanfeast party from the East End. In the Star Inn a free fight occurred, and in endeavouring to quell this the police were severely handled. Prisoners pleaded guilty to being drunk, but said they had no recollection of assaulting the police. Porter and Whistler were sent to hard labour for three weeks, and Marsh was fined 30s. including costs.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT DARSHAM.

A TROLLEY RUN INTO AND SMASHED TWO MEN KILLED.

A HORRIBLE SCENE ON THE LINE.

A shocking accident happened on the Great Eastern Railway on Wednesday afternoon, near Darsham. A light engine, driven by J. Sparrow, of Ipswich, left Yarmouth at 2.40 with the empties for a train from Yarmouth, and when about two miles from Darsham on the Halesworth side, ran into a trolley, on which were Edward Bullen, of Darsham, and Edward Smith, aged 70, and two men named Moore and Elmey were almost instantly killed, the third man escaping injury. The engine driver had no time to apply the brakes. On reaching Bramfield, the booking clerk and foreman porter, with the train of E. W. Rogers, walked along the line to the scene of the accident. Meanwhile the man who escaped had obtained assistance, and the bodies were removed to Darsham Station.

MARKETS.

IPSWICH CORN, Tuesday.—Wheat: The supply was fair, but by no means so large as usual just after a harvest. Prices ruled firm, and all the samples offered were threshed in unfit condition for milling, and were sold on the basis of 30s. per qr. Barley: The supply of useful samples of red being worth more than 28s. to 29s. per 50 lbs., and white up to 32s. Barley a small supply, but the quality of the grain generally realised at present; prices averaged from 21s. to 33s. per qr., grinding sorts 6d. per qr. dearer, Ayor at 13s. 6d., Dunsfold 13s. 6d., Hartfield 13s. 6d., and Ardingly at 13s. 6d. to 22s. per qr. Maize strong at 1s. per qr. advance on the week; round 21s. 6d. to 22s., American nominally 24s. to 24s. 6d. per qr. Oilcakes quiet, at unaltered prices on the week. Milling offals slow, with prices unaltered. J. W. Rogers, sailed.

IPSWICH CATTLE, Tuesday.—A very fairly attended market. The entry of stock was not very large. Fat beasts sold fair. Fat cattle sold steadily, with an upward tendency. Sheep generally were well up to the prices of the past few weeks. The swine market not very numerously attended. Prices were fairly good, ridiculous restrictions, although there were a number sold on the market, and in private yards in the town, these so sold eventually realising fully what is handed and licensed, on account of their being brought into the market, thus increasing the quantity of the action taken. Numbers penned, exclusive of sale yards:—341 fat and store cattle, 618 sheep, 137 swine.—At Messrs. Spurgeon Read and Son's sale yard there was a better supply of stock on offer of all descriptions. Best beef quite as dear. Mutton, if any alteration, a trifle in favour of the buyer. Calves and pigs 5s. per cwt. Numbers penned: 103 beasts, 283 sheep, 167 swine, 28 horses.

SAXMUNDHAM CORN, Wednesday.—A fair attendance. Wheats from 18s. to 21 per quarter. One sample in bad condition realised 20s. per qr. Barleys in variable condition, but at present no market. Peas from 20s. to 27s.

WOODBRIDGE CORN, Thursday.—We are now almost at the end of a prolonged harvest, and the latter corn has been cut and carted well. Wheat at present comes sensibly in request; but business is only doing late rates. A chance lot of barley offering, making from 30s. upwards, according to quality and colour. Wheat—white (new), 22s. to 24s. per qr.; red, 21s. to 22s. per qr.

IPSWICH CORN, Thursday.—Harvest operations will in most cases be concluded this week, if the fine weather lasts. Good attendance at market; trade quiet. Prices: Wheat, 20s. to 22s. per qr.; oats, 18s. to 21s.; milling barley, 18s. to 20s.; oats, 15s. to 18s.; peas, 22s. to 24s. per quarter.

STOWMARKET CORN, Tuesday.—Only the usual attendance at market to-day, and not a very large supply of wheat; trade quiet. Prices: Wheat, white, 20s. to 22s. per qr.; red, 21s. to 22s. per qr.

STOWMARKET CORN, Thursday.—A moderate supply of wheat, and a very quiet market at 20s. to 20s. 6d. per 504lbs. for fairly dry rods, and 18s. to 19s. for wet ones. Barley: Most of the samples offered were in poor conditions, and could not be sold. Only 30s. per qr. Maize and grinding barleys 6d. to 1s. per qr. easier on the week.

BURY CATTLE, Wednesday.—In the general market there was a moderate show of store cattle, which were very much in request. Fat cattle sold at steady rates and store sheep, for which trade was not particularly brisk.

BURY CORN, Wednesday.—Wheat: A moderate show of samples, most of which were in poor milling condition. Fairly dry reds were only worth 19s. to 20s. per 504lbs., and whites 20s. to 21s. per 504lbs.; whites 20s. to 23 per qr. Barley: The supply came in very slowly, and there is a dull feeling, millers securing in full their requirements. Malting sorts are scarce and moderate, and prices ruled from 21s. to 33s. per qr.; foreign grinding sorts were 6d. to 1s. per qr. dearer at 14s. 6d. to 16s. per 400lbs. Oats: Fair supply of new. English offering, mostly damp, and worth from 16s. to 18s. per 304lbs. Beans and peas unchanged. Beans: Old steady, at 31s. to 33s. per qr. Peas: 1s. per qr. dearer, with the buying quite of a retail character, at 27s. to 28s. per qr. Maize and flour unchanged. Barley nominal at the high quotations of 24s. 6d. to 25s. per qr. Milling offals very slow. Other feeding stuffs unchanged.

Letters from Mr. Burker, Mr. Chronica, and Mr. W. A. Andrews will appear next week.

E. BLAKE, IPSWICH.—We cannot insert your communication, as it is only a scandalous, libellous attack on the private character of Mr. Spring, and is unaccompanied by any proof in support of the same. We should like you to understand that our columns will not be open to you, when you have once charged the present administration of the funds of the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation as set forth in your six questions at the end of Mr. Edwards' letter published this week. These are the points at issue, and we cannot allow them to be obscured or evaded by ridiculous letters of the character sent us.

SHAM ECONOMY IN THE WAR OFFICE.

LIGHT RAILWAYS IN IRELAND.

DEVELOPMENT OF TECHNICAL INSTRUCTION.

[By Our London Correspondents.]

FRIDAY Midnight.

According to the Caterer a new variant of the trunk swindle is about to be introduced into this country from America. Unlike the old trick, which consisted in visiting an hotel with a large portmanteau full of bricks and leaving it behind on the landing, the latest development requires two men to work it. The conspirators arrive as complete strangers to one another, one with a large trunk and the other with a small one. At the first convenient opportunity the small trunk is placed inside the large one, and the owner of the former claims damages from the landlord. Hotel proprietors are warned to be suspicious of complete strangers with baggage of this description.

The War Office is still pursuing its foolish game of sham economy. It has been admitted that the recruiting operations are not being attended with satisfactory results, and it is necessary that a greater enemy to cheap and quiet must be thrown in the way of those under such circumstances that Mr. Campbell-Bannerman has given his assent to the union of the two positions of Inspector-General of Recruiting and Deputy-Inspector-General of Auxiliary Forces. The soldier who will unite the two positions—Sir Francis Grenfell—is admittedly an excellent officer, but he cannot do more than is humanly possible. If one man is in future to do the work of two men, it is certain that more and more recruiting will be neglected, and to neglect recruiting would at this moment be an act of egregious folly. Is it worth while undertaking such a risky experiment for the sake of a small saving? The latter is exciting a good deal of criticism in the service.

The development throughout the country of a system of technical education is revealing our unpreparedness for it. Science and Art Schools are necessary, but technical instruction taken hold of the public mind that schools are being established far in excess of the supply of competent teachers. The subjects which are now being introduced are so varied and numerous that makeshifts in the form of university men have to be employed in place of practical technical instructors. The demand has come with great suddenness, and the growth of the system is in danger of being much retarded, or its cost much increased, in consequence of the want of fully-qualified teachers. As the technical school is now domesticated among us as allpermanent and highly-valued institution, some machinery for supplying the want of competent masters, whether by the establishment of a training college or the expansion of some of the existing educational establishments, or by a remodelling and cheapening of the Science and Art Department, will shortly have to be taken in hand at Westminster, the matter will not brook great delay.

The progress which is being made with the construction of some of the light railways in Ireland is far from satisfactory, and the work is watched with considerable interest by the inhabitants of the districts through which they will eventually run. The line from Galway to Clifden, some fifty miles in length, has already taken as long to make as the Canadian Pacific, and it is not finished yet, though some hope is entertained that it may be completed before the end of the year. One of the chief causes of the delay is the number of bog holes which have to be filled up, and whose capacity for swallowing up material is enormous. But the management of the undertaking has been a good deal at fault, as in the case of the railway from Tuam to Claremorris, which stops one mile short of the station with which it is supposed to be in connection.

The National Protestant Church Union is afield with a protest which has been sent to each diocesan of the Church of England. Its object is to discountenance the use of unauthorised service books in the administration of the Holy Communion side-by-side with the Book of Common Prayer. Further, it complains that the wide circulation of Manuals, especially among the young, containing not a few of the distinctive errors of the Church of Rome, constitutes a grave peril of grave danger to the National Church. A formidable list of quotations follows, which is drawn from various works in use among Ritualistic congregations.

Nothing could be more Irish than Mr. T. D. Sullivan's instinct for the exposure of his friends. He proposes that a list should be made of all the English politicians who have received circular was sent, that circular which Mr. J. F. X. O'Brien signed and knew nothing about. And therewith he would print the answers and the amounts it fetched. Also, he would have the world know that the Anti-Parnellites scorn the use of corruption. Mr. Sullivan is a humorist. Mr. Gladstone's, indeed, he would keep; but then Mr. Gladstone's contribution came to a hundred pounds; the others were guineas, singly or in pairs, or even in halves.

For the rest, Mr. Davitt and the rest of them are laying all the blame on Mr. Healy so bitterly that we should not be surprised to hear in a few days (1) that Mr. Healy has left London, (2) that he really wanted to appropriate the money to his private use, (3) that he was prepared to send the pieces of silver back after the Irish cause had nothing to gain by having lost them. But when it comes to vituperation, Mr. Healy is more than able to take care of himself—and of his enemies.

The old tavern in Cloth Fair is not the only ancient licensed house in London which will shortly be a thing of the past. The old Swan Tavern, Fetter Lane, the London House Yard, St. Paul's Churchyard, where, in 1717, Masonry was revived and the first Grand Lodge of the world founded, is about to be pulled down. At the north end of the west side of Fulwood's (commonly called Fuller's) Rents, Holborn, is an old brick house which Timbs, in his "Curiosities of London," indentifies as being "Squires," the house where, in the reign of Charles II., Melbourne and Oates Club used to meet, and where the contributors to the Spectator are dated. This building, which was not long ago seriously damaged by fire, is also to be demolished.

The "Disk Whittington" Inn, said to be the oldest licensed house in London, and situate in Cloth Fair, a narrow old-world street, which runs out of Smithfield Market is about to be demolished. The old inn, though blackened by age, is a fine specimen of the sixteenth century building, with its overhanging eaves over the windows on the first storey, and the carved cat's head which adorns the corner is in honour of Whittington. Cloth Fair recalls, by its name, the great trading festival which was held annually in Smithfield. There was held the old cloth market, and at the entrance of the lane stood the Lord Mayor to proclaim the opening of the fair. It was the custom for the tailors and drapers to ride to Smithfield in his lordship with a burlesque proclamation of their own. Rambling at the "Hand and Shears" on the previous night, they would go through this burlesque with shouts of applause and snapping of shears. Gradually the trading element left the fair, and nothing but shows were left to entertain the crowds. Bartholomew Fair, the ploughing horses had a remote kinship to the "Bartholomew" said he had been taken from his mates and placed with strangers on another farm.—The Magistrates expressed their opinion that the conduct was drawn up in a very unsatisfactory manner. They did not consider Mr. Fairweather had suffered so much damage as assessed, and only inflicted a nominal penalty of 1s., with 12s. costs.

A FELIXSTOWE SENSATION.

SUICIDE OF A BANK MANAGER.

GHASTLY DISCOVERY BY A SON.

A SHOCKING SCENE.

AN INVALID TIRED OF LIFE.

On Wednesday morning at nine o'clock a thin stream of blood was seen trickling from under the door of an out-house at No. 2, Barton Terrace, Felixstowe, by a young man, and the discoverer also heard groans from inside as if some one was in agony. Dashing open the door the young man was startled to find his father in a state of collapse on a seat, with a terrible gash in his throat, from which blood was oozing over his clothes and dripping on the ground. It was a shocking scene. The deceased's razor and a pool of blood were spattered with it. Realising the dangerous condition of his father the young man gave the alarm, and at once ran for a surgeon. In the meantime the wife and children ran to the succour of the dying man, and a scene of great confusion was witnessed. The poor gentleman, with fast glazing eyes, attempted to speak to his wife, who tenderly supported him in her arms, but he was unable to give utterance to his wishes. It was with difficulty he could speak that ran through his frame. He was dead. The doctor soon after arrived with the distracted son, but of course he could do nothing. No reason can be assigned for the act. It is thought he was driven from his mind by ill-health. He acted as manager of the National and Provincial Bank of England, at Gravesend, for a period of 30 years, and the fact that on Tuesday morning he received a letter from the head office in London, he need not resume his duties till Christmas, may have upset a sensitive mind. Deceased, who was about 60 years of age, leaves a widow and three children, the eldest being 14, and for whom much sympathy is felt.

A LONG CONVULSIVE SHUDDER

DISS ANTI-VACCINATORS FINED.

MONEY PAID BY THE LEAGUE.

At Diss Petty Session on Wednesday, Herbert W. Hook, B.A., Rector of Bressingham, Philpot, W. Vickery, S. Cullum, J. Goodenham, and C. E. King Fisher were summoned for disobeying an order of the Magistrates to have their children vaccinated. Mr. Burgess and Mr. Cleverley, of the Anti-Vaccination League, defended. Each was ordered to pay a penalty of 10s. and costs. The money was paid by the League.

AN IPSWICH VESSEL'S TEMPESTUOUS VOYAGE.

SPRINGING A LEAK AT SEA.

A Lloyd's telegram from Ringsend says:—The schooner John William, from Ipswich, with manure, for Dublin, arrived on Monday. When off the Irish coast she fell in with bad weather, during which she lost her foretopmast, split the fore-tryasil, and sprang a leak.

THE HEALTH OF YARMOUTH.

STATEMENT BY A TOWN COUNCILLOR.

At the last meeting of the Yarmouth Town Council Councillor Willimont contended that notwithstanding the large increase in the official staff, the health of the borough was in such a deplorable sanitary condition as it was five years ago. The Medical Officer of Health stated that there was a decrease in the deathrate, and that compared with the previous twelve months, one per cent. was no increase this year.

A FATHER'S TERRIBLE FIND.

A TEACHER'S SHOCKING DEATH.

About ten o'clock on Wednesday night a young woman named Rhoda Suggitt, a pupil teacher, was out to pieces on the Manchester, Sheffield and Lincoln Railway, just outside Clayborne Station. She had been on the pier, and her residence being close by the line she walked along the pastals as the nearest way home. She was found by her father, Mr. Thomas Thorpes, and her mangled body was afterwards discovered by her father.

EXCITING INCIDENT AT WOODBRIDGE.

STARTLED HORSE TEARS A GATE OFF ITS HINGES.

On Saturday morning, as a horse drawing a van, belonging to a dealer named Sawyer, was being driven down the Thoro'fare, Woodbridge, a lynch-pin gave way, and the startled animal rushed through the Thoro'fare at a furious pace, scattering the van and the vehicle which were in the narrow street, and causing much consternation. Beyond, however, breaking a window the waving a gate off its hinges, no great harm was done.

WANTED TO FIGHT A POLICEMAN.

AN OCCOLD LABOURER'S FREAK.

Edward Pallant, labourer, Occold, was charged at the Hartismere Sessions on Monday, with drunken and disorderly conduct at Thorndon. On the 2nd inst, Police-constable Culpin, Thorndon, stated that defendant went to the Black Horse Inn, but as he was drunk, the landlord refused to serve him, whereupon the defendant became violent, and the officer was called in. He subsequently refused to leave the house, and witness ejected him. Outside defendant became more violent, took off his coat, and wanted to fight the officer. Eventually, he was taken into custody. Fined 10s.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT IKEN.

SUFFOLK COTTERS BURNT OUT.

TWO COTTAGES COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

A fire, which completely destroyed two cottages on the Sudbourne Hall Estate, broke out on Saturday, about 10 o'clock. The cottages were tenanted by Messrs. Hill and Danfer, and it is supposed that while one of the tenants was baking a spark fell on the thatched roof and ignited it. The alarm was quickly given, but at the time, and before anything could be done to save the property the furniture of one cottage was destroyed with the building. The furniture of Hill's cottage was were fortunately able to save most of their furniture. The cottages were situated on the edge of Iken Wood, and were built about 25 years ago by the Marquis of Hertford.

DETECTED BY A DOG.

WETHERINGSETT FOWL STEALER CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

MONEY OF NO AVAIL.

Mark Bothwell, labourer, Wetheringsett, was charged at the Hartismere Sessions with stealing four hens, value 5s., the property of Abraham Simmins, farmer, on the 21st August.—Mrs. Simmins said about half-past three in the morning of the 21st she was awoke by the dog barking, and looking out of the bedroom window she saw the defendant leave the fowl shed with some fowls in his hands. She then raised three Hill's-of-day chicken. Police-constable Burrows, Brockford, recovered the fowls from the defendant's house. When apprehended prisoner said "Yes I took them; I can have plenty of money and I don't care if I can get off by paying." Prisoner was sentenced to three weeks' hard hard labour.

PLEA FOR THE INVALIDS.

THETFORD JUSTICES AND ADDITIONAL LICENSES.

The Brewster Sessions on Monday, were rather more interesting than usual. Supt. Wright reported that during the year no complaint had been made against any of the licensed houses in the district, as all renewed, and an application was made by Messrs. Moore and Son, who have recently opened a wine and spirit shop in White Hart Street, for an additional six days' licence to sell beer by retail off the premises. It was contended that as there was already a wine and spirit boon would be conferred by this license. Three doctors and four clergymen were all agreed that the license was necessary. Mr. Bristow, the Hon. Sec. of a Temperance organisation had not thought fit to oppose it. The Bench said the extention was quite unnecessary, and therefore declined to grant it.

FARMERS AND THEIR HARVEST CONTRACTS.

A SWILLAND LABOURER

WAS TAKEN FROM HIS MATES AND HE SULKED.

At Needham Market Petty Sessions on Wednesday Joseph Garnham, labourer, Swilland, was summoned by Henry Prewett Farmer, of Hitcham, claiming £4 damages for breach of contract. It was agreed that the defendant and the other three men who accompanied him should be paid 18s. per week. On Sunday The defendant started on the 6th August, and after the 27th did not return to his employment. The prosecutor on Wednesday last week met the men at the Anglesea to take defendant's place, and the ploughing horses had to remain idle. The men on the latter said he had been taken from his mates and placed with strangers on another farm.—The Magistrates expressed their opinion that the contract was drawn up in a very unsatisfactory manner. They did not consider Mr. Fairweather had suffered so much damage as assessed, and only inflicted a nominal penalty of 1s., with 12s. costs.

THE MAYOR AND THE BISHOP.

A PRETTY LITTLE QUARREL AT LIVERPOOL.

At the luncheon given in the Duke and Duchess of York by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool on Monday, his lordship requested the Rev. R. A. Armstrong, a Unitarian minister, to say grace, though the Bishop of Liverpool was present. The Rev. Mr. Armstrong complied, but refused to attend. This has provoked much comment, and yesterday the Rev. Hall Dancey unanimously decided a resolution expressing "surprise and deep regret at the discourtesy shown by the Lord Mayor of Liverpool (Mr. W. Rutherford) to the Lord Bishop of the diocese whilst entertaining the Duke and Duchess of York at the Town Hall yesterday." Mr. J. R. Hockey admitted that in his private capacity the Lord Mayor was entitled to ask whom he pleased to say grace, but held that as Lord Mayor of Liverpool he was to recognise the position of the Established Church.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY NEAR THELNETHAM.

A MAN BRUTALLY ATTACKED ON THE ROAD.

At Ixworth Petty Session on Monday, Samuel Davidson and Benjamin Hinells, labourers, of Market Weston, were charged with stealing a frail basket, a "rub," a hammer, a drift, 1lb. sugar, 1lb. butter, 3lb. cheese, and other articles, on the 7th inst., the property of Walter George Dykes, of Thelnetham.—Prosecutor on the 8th August was walking towards Thelnetham with the articles named, and the goods mentioned when he met the defendants. Davidson made an accusation against him, and both defendants set upon him and knocked him down with their fists. Hinells snatched the basket, while Davidson continued to attack him. Complainant got up, and walked a short distance further, when he was knocked down again, and Hinnells threw the fork and other things away, and then went away.—Defendants were convicted and each sentenced to 21 days' hard labour.

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION AT CHELMSFORD.

MARVELLOUS ESCAPE OF TWO MEN.

MASS OF IRON BLOWN THROUGH A ROOF.

An alarming occurrence happened at Chelmsford on Monday afternoon. Mr. F. Remnant, landlord of the Saracen's Head Hotel, Moulsham Street, and a number of employés were in the cutting-house at the rear of the yard, when, without the slightest warning, the boiler used for the purpose of steaming the meat before being put to a corn grinder and other machinery, suddenly exploded. The shock was very severe—indeed, so great that the boiler was blown through the roof of the building, and hurled with fearful force on the ground some four or five yards away. The only man in the house was William Newman, and he was thrown down, but not seriously hurt. Mr. Remnant's escape was more remarkable, as he was thrown from the spot he upon where the heavy iron mass fell. He was coming up the yard at the time, and had he been two or three seconds later he must have been killed on the spot. The engine-house was completely wrecked, while a wall near was partially destroyed. The boiler was a four-horse one, and it is supposed that the cause of the explosion was owing to a thin fire-plate.

The deceased joined the Customs at Lowestoft, afterwards coming to Hull, where he was much respected. The deceased leaves a wife and family.

FATAL FALL AT BECCLES.

A LABOURER'S LINGERING DEATH.

A farm labourer, named Frederick Bryanton, aged 42, died on Tuesday morning from injuries received by falling off a stack of barley. He was employed on Monday by Mr. Wm. Pedgrift, of the Hall Farm, Worlingham, and was assisting to adjust a tilt over the stack, when, in stepping backwards, he went too far, and fell to the ground, lighting on his head on a moving pulley when he was caught by the gearing, and in a few seconds both arms were torn from their sockets, his foot torn off, and body otherwise frightfully mutilated.

GLUT OF FISH IN IRELAND.

SALMON THROWN BACK INTO THE SEA.

The waters on the west coast of Cork are at present almost alive with fish, even large quantities of salmon being captured in nets in the ocean waters, while over 600,000 mackerel were captured in Dunmanus Bay, near Skull, on the 31st ult. The great glut has put for want of buyers, or sufficient hands to cure them for the United States, thousands of fish are thrown back again from the piers into the sea.

TILL ROBBERY AT HAVERHILL.

SMART SENTENCE.

On Monday, at Haverhill Sessions, William French, 21 years of age, of Haverhill, was charged with stealing money from a till amounting to 5s., on the 6th inst., the property of Mr. John Turner, landlord of the White Horse Inn. Mrs. Turner stated the facts of the case, and the prisoner pleaded guilty. Supt. Bardwell mentioned convictions against prisoner himself, and the Bench sent him to gaol for six weeks, with hard labour.

TWO BOYS ROASTED ALIVE.

PATHETIC STORY FROM TUNBRIDGE WELLS.

Two boys named Thomas and William Anderson, sons of a cooper, of Tunbridge Wells, were burnt to death at a farm near Tunbridge Wells, the outbreak was caused by lighted candles being placed on some straw which caught fire, and the boys were burned to a cinder. They had recently lost their mother, and had been sent on a visit to their aunt, whose husband is a farmer.

CRUEL TREATMENT OF A BABY,

THE BIRCH ROD FOR A YOUNG SAVAGE.

John Baxter Phillips, aged 13, pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey, to having grievously wounded his baby brother by hitting him about the head and biting his cheeks and arms. It will be remembered that when asked by his mother what had prompted the cruel act he replied that he "did not like the baby," and that he had had a knife he would have "ripped him up like they do in America." The father's consent having been obtained, the prisoner was sentenced to receive twelve strokes with the birch.

PARTRIDGE SEASON IN WEST SUFFOLK

DISAPPOINTMENT FOR SPORTSMEN.

Now that the fields are being cleared, the disastrous effects of the June and July weather are becoming only too apparent in the small bags of partridges made in West Suffolk when shooting is fairly being old birds. This has occurred both on light and heavy land, and means that unless a jubilee is proclaimed for the next twelve months, and no "driving" is resorted to, the partridge will become almost extinct in some parts. Great care will have to be taken in watching the nests next spring.

A MAN'S LEG BROKEN

BY BEING KICKED.

VIOLENT ASSAULT WELL PUNISHED.

James Turner, labourer, Withersfield, was charged at Haverhill Sessions on Monday with assaulting Samuel Crackbell, who was sawing logs with a chair, having had his leg broken during the melée. Witnesses were called on both sides, and complainant swore that the leg was broken by the defendant kicking him. The case was examined by the Magistrates in their private room. The Bench sentenced defendant 20s. and costs 20s., or one month's hard labour.

FRESHWATER SHARK IN THE STOUR.

A RARE FISH CAUGHT NEAR STRATFORD.

Dr. A. Günther writes to the Field respecting the capture of the rare Bull-shark, or Nicaragua shark, a freshwater shark, by the keepers of Mr. Norton, of Langham Hall, Colchester, in the river Stour, at Stratford Mill. The shark was taken on a whitebait fishing, and was 4 feet 3 inches long, and weighed over 30lbs. About 30 years ago, Sir Joshua Rowley put some young Sharks into a lake communicating with the river, but this fish is supposed to be a survivor of the experiment. In the Danube this fish attains a weight of 500 lbs. The fish has since been mounted.

FIREWORKS THROUGH A KEYHOLE.

NOVEL FORM OF ANNOYANCE.

A man complained, at Highgate Police Court, that a boy was in the habit of letting off squibs through the keyhole of his house and causing much annoyance. Early on the previous Saturday morning, the boy's peril-smelling smoke, and he wanted to know what he could do. The Magistrate remarked that he knew what he should do for himself, the applicant rejoined the Magistrate that it was a dangerous thing for a man who was not a magistrate to take the law into his own hands. The Magistrate then told the applicant that he did not know what he should do, and said he could only hope the boy would damage the lock and then they could deal with him.

ALARMING INCIDENT IN IPSWICH.

WAGGONETTE OVERTHROWN.

PINNED UNDER A HORSE.

Considerable commotion was caused in Princes Street, Ipswich, on Saturday morning. Shortly after 11 o'clock, Mr. Charles Bolton, commercial traveller, Princes Street, and a groom named Harry Baldwin, had just taken their seats in a four-wheeler, when the horse, without warning, bolted down the street at a furious pace. It had not proceeded further than Messrs. Turners' leather works, outside which stood a heavy railway van, when the horse attempted to turn sharply round, and fell on the pavement, overthrowing the waggonette. Mr. Charles Bolton was thrown on to the kerb, but Baldwin fell under the horse. Police-constable Tricker, who was near, ran to his assistance, and rescued him. The waggonette sustained considerable damage.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

LATEST PARTICULARS.

There is no lack of news of a kind from the far East but somehow the Chino-Japanese war has so far proved to be a very slow business. The telegrams from Yokohama point to great things accomplished—and some exceedingly small things. The Japs are big fighters—but nothing in the nature of a decisive action has yet taken place. China still holds that she has been the victim of surprise and treachery, and is doing her best to impress the fact upon the powers. But her game is clearly a watching one, and if she wishes to delay matters much longer will be able to count upon a powerful ally. Winter is striding rapidly from the north, and operations in Corea or Manchuria can hardly be attempted. Certainly a winter advance upon Peking would be out of the question, and King Frost may even more prove that he holds the fate of nations in his hands.

IMPUDENT SHOP ROBBERY AT IPSWICH.

EXCITING CHASE BY SHOP ASSISTANTS.

On Monday, at the Ipswich Police Court, John Wilson, of 41, Kemball Street, was charged with stealing a pair of gloves, value 1s. 6d., from the shop of Mr. George Green, clothier, Tavern Street, Ipswich. An assistant named William Read said defendant entered the shop and asked to be shown some pants. While the young lady assistant who was serving him, was away from the counter, prisoner took a double pair of pants and put them in a hand-bag he was carrying. Mr. J. E. Edwards, the manager, asked defendant to allow him to look at the bag, and defendant replied "certainly not," and bolted. Witness and Mr. Edwards gave chase, and overtook him. Both men took him back to the shop where defendant took the pants out of the bag and threw them on the counter. Mr. Edwards added that defendant was drunk at the time. Police-constable Mitchell arrested defendant. Fined 20s., or Norwich Road, and Mr. A. E. Tillisay gave evidence as a good character, and the Magistrates, remarking that it was evidently all through drink, fined him £1, including costs.

PERILOUS POSITION OF THE CREW.

On Saturday night the smack Blantyre, DH., 61, belonging to Mr. J. Hellings, was run into by a large barque, named the Dora, of Maxdal, while on the fishing ground. The collision was a very severe one, and thinking the smack in danger of sinking, the crew jumped aboard the barque. Next morning, when daylight dawned, nothing was seen of the smack. During the morning the crew were transferred to another smack, the Lily Ethel.

SALMON THROWN BACK INTO THE SEA.

The waters on the west coast of Cork are at present almost alive with fish, even large quantities of salmon being captured in nets in the ocean waters, while over 600,000 mackerel were captured in Dunmanus Bay, near Skull, on the 31st ult. The great glut has put for want of buyers, or sufficient hands to cure them for the United States, thousands of fish are thrown back again from the piers into the sea.

TILL ROBBERY AT HAVERHILL.

SMART SENTENCE.

On Monday, at Haverhill Sessions, William French, 21 years of age, of Haverhill, was charged with stealing money from a till amounting to 5s., on the 6th inst., the property of Mr. John Turner, landlord of the White Horse Inn. Mrs. Turner stated the facts of the case, and the prisoner pleaded guilty. Supt. Bardwell mentioned convictions against prisoner himself, and the Bench sent him to gaol for six weeks, with hard labour.

HOW THE CAUSE ADVANCES.

STIRRING SPEECHES.

THE IRISH TAIL WAGS THE RADICAL DOG.

AN IRISHMAN'S APPEAL TO COMMON SENSE.

CRUSHING EXPOSURE OF GLADSTONIAN TINKERING.

The Toxford and Thorington Primrose League is a plant of young but sturdy growth. Only a couple of years ago as an offshoot from the Saxmundham Habitation, it has already become one of the most flourishing branches in the promotion of true Constitutionalism in the Eye Division, proof of which was amply demonstrated by the success of the annual entertainment or fête, which, by the courtesy of Miss Tattlock, of Bramfield House (a lady who has evinced a most practical interest in the work of the League), and Mr. John Lee (steward for the Bramfield estate), was held in the grounds adjoining Bramfield House, on Wednesday afternoon. Although the League in that portion of the Eye Division may still be considered in its infancy, it can boast a membership of between 300 and 400, no less than 165 of whom have joined within the past year. The Habitation is in a likewise flourishing condition from a financial point of view, and judging from a decision of the members to hold a series of meetings in the villages during November next, it may safely be assumed that the

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS

which has hitherto attended the Habitation will be continued and even extended. Sir Ralph Blois, of Cockfield Hall, is the Ruling Councillor; the Habitation has benefitted largely by the active interest taken in it by the hon. secretary, while a warm friend and energetic supporter of the organisation is found in Miss E. C. Foster, hon. secretary to the Eye Divisional Council. In holding their annual fête, the members of the League have been most fortunate. It was originally intended that the event should take place, coupled with athletic sports, on Bank Holiday, but the unpropitious weather on that occasion caused a postponement, and it was nevertheless there was a fairly numerous gathering, and though a biting wind swept over the ground, the event passed off most successfully. The only feature which reflected credit on the lady organisers. Swings, steam bosoms, conjuring, and a round of other attractions were provided, while the Blaxhall Youth Volunteer Band played selections of music at intervals. Wednesday was also made the occasion of the annual treat to the scholars and teachers of the Bramfield Parish Church Sunday School—some 80 in number. The Vicar, the Rev. H. Wood, kindly arranging the pleasure which the "fair" attractions would afford the youngsters, paid for their admission to the field, and the children were then regaled with tea in the Swan Inn (who catered for the fête refreshments) to provide the children with tea, which was served in a large marquee on the lawn, by the kindness of the

GENERAL MEETING OF THE HABITATION

was held on the ground, under the presidency of Sir Ralph Blois, for the purpose of receiving the election of officers and Executive Council for the ensuing year. The following were unanimously elected:—President, Ruling Councillor, Sir R. Blois; hon. secretary, Miss Blois; treasurer, Miss Barnby; Executive Council, Sir Ralph Blois, Lady Blois, Miss Barnby, Miss Tattlock, Mrs. Donald, Mr. F. Remnant, Dr. Bayles, and Mrs. Parry Crooke. Miss Cottingham, a lady who it was stated had been a worker of the Habitation from its start, was enthusiastically promoted to the rank of hon. dame, and after arrangements had been made for a series of "At Homes" to be held at Bramfield House, Tattlock and Miss Lee were warmly thanked for the use of the ground, the Ruling Councillor observing that that was one way in which to farmers were encouraged times. Later in the day several very interesting addresses on the objects of the League and the principles it advocated were delivered from a waggon, the principal speakers being the Hon. John de Grey, the provincial secretary of the League, Mr. Ernest Bell, a well-known Irish barrister, who was present in the capacity of delegate for the Grand Council in London. Sir R. Blois presided, and in a few well-chosen words the speakers in addition to the principal officers of the Habitation were—Mrs. Egbert Holland, Mrs. Parry Crooke, Mrs. Donald, Miss Blois, Miss Barnby, Miss Lee, and others.—In the course of a telling speech, the Hon. John De Grey spoke with pride of the growth of the Habitation, and referred to the fact that though irreverent Radicals had tried to laugh the Primrose League to scorn it continued to grow and prosper because, to support it, people came to look into its

BROAD PRINCIPLES

they discovered that the League was doing its best to rest the Government of this country on a firm fixed basis—not for the good of one class, but for the good of the people as a whole. Unfortunately, the old cry of believe in passing laws for the benefit of one class at the expense of another class, and be believed in legislation, whether by Tory or Radical, by which the rich could be passed for the good of everybody all round. The Primrose Leaguers had to fight the "Unholy Alliance," the Liberal having had a general election era this but they were still waiting for the time when the present Government would break up. (Hear, hear.) That time, he did not think, would be long deferred, because the country was getting tired of being governed—not by a Radical Government, but by a number of

DISLOYAL IRISHMEN.

The present Government was like the little dolls they saw that danced when the strings were pulled. (Laughter.) It could not stir a finger or bring forward a single measure without the support and support of the Irish members. If those Irish members were good, loyal subjects of the Queen, and wished to join in passing laws for the benefit of the whole, well their votes would be just as valuable as the votes of other members of Parliament; but what we knew their object was to destroy the Union between Great Britain and Ireland, and to gain their object they were prepared to force the Government to concede to every demand and to obstruct the passing of just laws, then, he said, we were living under an Irish tyranny, which was not satisfactory. (Hear, hear.) The Primrose League came into great interest at stake. They had to defend their religion, their Constitution, and the unity of their empire. They were told that the Irish question could be appealed to them to remember those three aims of the League; and it behoved them to remember who they were voting for. (Hear, hear.) They were not sufficient for a Parliamentary candidate to be a very nice gentleman and a good neighbour. What they were accustomed to see was he would be vote in the House of Commons. What was the party in power going to do? It appeared to him they were going to destroy religion, and religious education; they were going to make a violent attack on the House of Lords, which was part of our Constitution; Ireland was to be given up to Home Rule, bear! That time, he did not think, would be long deferred, because the country was getting tired of being governed—not by a Radical Government, but by a number of

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

WOODBRIDGE SEAMEN'S SOCIETY.

DEATH OF A VETERAN ODDFELLOW.

The Joint Friendly Societies' Committee of Ipswich are making every preparation for their first annual demonstration in aid of the East Suffolk Hospital, and given fine weather, the event not only promises to be memorable in the history of philanthropic work in the borough, but also to materially augment the funds of the Institution named.

Another very deserving and useful Institution, viz., the Shipwrecked Seamen's Benevolent Society was brought under the notice of the inhabitants of Woodbridge on Sunday last by the usual annual sermon preached by the Rev. Arthur Hawetson, M.A. The offertory amounted to £6 0s. 10½d. (the donor of the odd farthing was not discovered), and was devoted to the funds of the Society. We should like to know a little more of the history of this Society, and to what extent benefits have been distributed within the past twelve months.

The friendly societies in the Manningtree district were also in evidence on Sunday. A parade and service at the parish church having been arranged, a large muster of Oddfellows and Foresters gathered on Mistley Green. After the marshalling process had been duly effected, under Bandmaster Naylor, headed the procession, and a start was made for Manningtree, viâ the New Road, Oxford Road, Regent Street, South Street, and thence to the church, where a crowded congregation awaited the arrival of the marchers, who being filled to its utmost capacity. Here the vicar, the Rev. W. Cill, conducted the service, and in the course of an earnest and eloquent address, the rev. gentleman impressed upon his auditory the necessity of unity in their efforts in the interests of others. The choir enlivened the service somewhat by singing the anthem "O Praise the Lord," and during the singing of the last hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," which was accompanied by the full band, a collection on behalf of offertory was taken on behalf of the East Essex Hospital, which, with a collection made en route to church, totalled the substantial sum of over £6.

The present appears to be a month of friendly society demonstrations to help institutions which have for their aim the amelioration of the sick and suffering, and indeed Suffolk and Essex Societies have thrown down the gauntlet of philanthropy fairly, and are vieing with each other in their laudable efforts to support our too-frequently forgotten infirmaries. As in former years the various societies in and around Bungay held a demonstration at Bungay on Sunday. The procession, headed by the band of the Bungay Detachment E.R.N.R., the brethren paraded the town, and then proceeded to St. Mary's Church, where the Rev. Mr. Dale Rice discoursed from that most appropriate of texts, "Bear ye one another's burdens." A total sum of £10 3s. 3d.—£3 0s. 3d. in the church, and £7 3s. 7d. by boxes in the streets—was realised by the event, and this was divided among the following charities:—The Norfolk and Norwich Hospital, Ditchingham Cottage Hospital, and the Lowestoft Convalescent Home.

Foresters and Oddfellows united at Stowmarket, on Sunday afternoon, on the occasion of their second annual church parade, the collection being in aid of the East Suffolk Hospital and the Felixstowe Convalescent Home. The members of the two Orders, whose aims and government have very much in common with each other, assembled on Messrs. Frewer's meadow, Ipswich Road, and the procession was led by the band of the Company 2nd V.B. Suffolk Regiment, and the Combs instrumental band (by permission of Capt. C. C. Tuck and Mr. J. V. Webb). Unfortunately the weather was not all that could have been desired, albeit the representative of the Ipswich Journal has come back for a year of such general abundance, though we have had plenty of years in which the wheat crop has exceeded that of the present season. The oat crop is the great cereal crop of Suffolk, and in the rich soils of Norfolk it bears the oats were between 6ft. and 7ft. high, and the straw of greater diameter than any wheat straw I ever saw; the produce, I could readily believe, would be from 80 to 100 bushels per acre. I am afraid the magnificent between Peterborough and Lynn have suffered greatly. They were mostly cut when I was there, and, although of enormous bulk, there was no golden look about them. The results of threshing will reveal very great variations in the quantity and quality of the wheat crop." The first number of the Journal of the Board of Agriculture has this year appeared. It is only a quarterly, and there appears to be nothing about it at which the promoters of unofficial agricultural papers need be greatly alarmed, excepting it may be for its competition for advertisements. The first issue has just been supplied two months earlier than has usually been the case, with the detailed figures showing this year's areas of certain crops in the counties of Great Britain, and also the numbers of cattle, sheep, and pigs. In the latter case the information attaches to the "Loyal Rock of Hope" Lodge of Oddfellows, of which the deceased was a member, were present at the funeral. Mr. Allen, who died after a few days' illness, was in the prime of life, having served home a few days previously for the purpose of attending the wedding of one of his sisters.

West Suffolk Oddfellowship is a serious loser by the death which took place on Monday night of Bro. William Welham, aged 58 years, landlord of the Bull Inn, Angel Hill, Bury St. Edmund's. Bro. Welham, who was a native of Lavenham, had been in failing health for some time past, and his somewhat premature demise—he was only 55 years of age—will be deeply regretted by a very wide circle of brethren and friends. To his untiring efforts the Manchester Unity owes a debt of gratitude. By clearance he was enlisted in the ranks of the "Loyal Rock of Hope" Lodge, through the chairs of which he passed with distinction, besides filling various offices in the district.

In 1874 he became Prov. G.M., while the two years anterior to that period he was mainly instrumental in forming what has since proved a flourishing plant—the "Pride" Lodge, to which he was appointed host and treasurer. His energies towards promoting the welfare of the latter Lodge were largely repaid by the fact that Grand Masters and members of the directorate of the Manchester Unity were occasionally to be found at anniversary dinners of the Lodge—an honour of which any Lodge in the country might justly feel proud.

This, however, does not exceed the list of Bro. Welham's good works in behalf of his Order, for in 1877 he was one of the leading spirits in establishing a juvenile branch of the "Bristol" Lodge. His coworkers frequently acknowledged his valuable services by electing him to represent the district at the A.M.C. Much sympathy is entertained for the widow and six children whom he has left to mourn his loss. Of Bro. Welham it may be truly said in the words of the initiatory lecture, "He died a good Oddfellow."

A social meeting of Oddfellows connected with the "Pride," and "Social Design" Lodges of Bury St. Edmund's, was held at the Saracen's Head Inn, on Monday evening, when toast and song whiled away a very enjoyable evening. The chair was given "Continued Success to the 'Pride' Lodge," and pointed to the fact that Bury's four Lodges contribute 2,146 towards the 9,660 members forming the Bury St. Edmund's district. Short addresses were also delivered in response, by Bros. G. H. Ellis, P. G., Walpole, N.G., Rev. H. J. A. Lucas, A. L. Lade, G.M., and H. A. Hinnels, P.G. and secretary.

The third quarterly meeting of the Eastern Star Provident Association Branch "Star of the West" was held on Monday evening at the Rose and Crown, Norwich Road. The balance-sheet showed very satisfactory results for the year, £267 11s. 9½d. was saved during the quarter. The receipts were as follows:—Contributions to sickness and funeral fund £84 6s. 7½d., medical and management £18 15s. 8d., entrance fees, fines, &c. £2 13s. 2d., interest £24 14s. 6d. The disbursements were as follows:—Sickness benefit to members £47 11s., funeral benefit to members £20, medical and management £21 19s. 8d., expenses of delegates £2 11s., incidental expenses 17s. This has been the lightest quarter for sickness the Branch has experienced since 1891.

A summoned meeting of the "Commerce" lodge, M.U., Ipswich, on Wednesday, unanimously elected Mr. S. G. Eades one of the medical officers of the lodge in succession to Mr. R. W. Brogden, resigned.

In the first place, Mr. Blake cannot disprove the charges I have made as to the shameful squandering of the funds of the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation (see Mr. J. As to his challenge to give the address of any "Blue Ribbon Lodge" trade unionist in my federation, I should like to state that if the principles upon which the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation has been worked are to be measured by which Trades Unions are to be entered and pledged, I am thankful to say we have none to hold those views in our ranks. But we have men who hold the

which I believe include the following:—(1st.) The greatest good of the greatest number. (2nd.) The trade the trade and commerce of our country. (3rd.) To stop senseless strikes. (4th.) To improve the relations between employer and the employed. (5th.) To oppose intimidation, boycotting and unjust picketing. (6th.) To give the public a fair trading, unprincipled agitator. (7th.) To take the management of their own funds into their own hands, to have the control over, and dispensation of the same themselves, instead of allowing officials of the Federation to have their expenses. I am fully convinced that if Trades Unions were worked upon this basis instead of having been, as in many cases, a curse, they would prove a blessing to the working man, and to the social and commercial welfare of our country. Is there anything exceedingly pathetic and touching that a Conservative working man of Penrith should have taken the trouble to hold up Mr. Blake as a model English gentleman. (Save the mark.) What are Mr. Blake's views as his constituents of an English gentleman. But more anon upon this subject, the ridiculous sublimity of which we leave for DISCUSSION IN COOLER MOMENTS.

I note that Mr. Blake has come over with cowardice, and states that when once I get my opponent face to face, I soon turn tail. Well, as perverters of the truth should have good memories, perhaps Mr. Blake will allow me to refresh his memory upon the following matters:—(1.) Did I turn tail when I met Mr. Pannbard at Ipswich, when he refused to discuss the balance-sheet, or attempt to disprove the allegations I had made? (2.) Does Mr. Blake remember when, during the annual meeting of the Trades and Labour Council of Ipswich I met Mr. Robinson himself and others to prove my charges against the administration of their Federation funds, which I was not allowed to do, although I was fully prepared to prove them to the hilt. (3rd.) Did I turn tail when I met Mr. Blake and others at an open-air meeting at Bramford and challenged him to pick out the first lie in my charges, which he could not and did not do? (4th.) Does Mr. Blake remember when I went to an open-air meeting at Stowmarket, and as soon as I asked my first question, how the

SPEAKER FLED FROM THE PLATFORM and locked himself in a room at the Magpie Inn. (5th.) Does Mr. Blake remember when I met Messrs. Brown and Punchard, both at Earl Soham and Monks Soham, when they both absolutely refused to discuss their balance-sheet or attempt to disprove the charges I had made as to the unsatisfactoriness of their Federation funds? Further, Mr. Blake, did I turn tail when I met your President (Mr. E. Brown), at Stoke, before a crowded meeting, when he was totally unable to defend the balance-sheet of your Federation, or disprove a single allegation I made, and when I left the room in consequence of your funds? I leave it to those who were present on that occasion to answer the question. Does Mr. Blake also forget that Mr. Verney, your agent, was present at Stowmarket, and that the Comet that whatever Mr. Edwards lacked, he was not a coward? Did not Mr. Geo. Ratcliff, the original treasurer of the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation, further state, at a meeting held at the Co-operative Hall, that they were indebted to Mr. Edwards for the course he had pursued, and did he not condemn the EXTRAVAGANT EXPENDITURE OF MR. BLAKE'S FEDERATION?

Mr. Blake further stated that Mr. Wager, of Mr. J. Arch's Union, writes, that I have been challenged by their Norfolk agent to meet him in debate and would not. I beg to state that I have met Mr. Arch's agents in open debate, and have proved to their faces that I was in the right. Mr. Blake's statement is also a falsehood. Further, Mr. Blake, if you please, as these appear to be your only argument. As it is utterly useless to beat about the bush any longer, I will now submit to you the following points before proceeding any further with this correspondence. (1st.) Is it not a fact that whilst the contributions from members of the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation for the year 1893 amounted to only £1,038 4s. 2½d., that the salaries of officials and other expenses devoured no less a sum than £1,053 9s. 6d. or £15 5s. 3½d. more than the members had paid, representing about 1,500 days' work? (2nd.) Is it not a fact that the total amount of the levies made upon the members of the Federation by £160 15s. 0½d., which sum had to be drawn from the funds of Mr. J. Robinson's left the Federation with? (5th.) Whether the balance of the Federation funds had not been reduced from £421 9s. 7½d. to £254 10s. 7d., thus leaving only about £5. per member to deal with upon the present balance-sheet left by Messrs. Blake and Co.? (6th.) Whether the labourers, to get a benefit in strike pay of £237 6s., did not have to pay £1,053 9s. 6d., or nearly £5 expenses for every 20s. benefited? These are the matters that Messrs. Bickerand Co. are asked to explain to the members of their Federation and to the public generally, and when they have done this I am prepared to pursue the matter further.

ROYAL VISIT TO LIVERPOOL.

ENTHUSIASTIC SCENES.

Liverpool was favoured on Monday with brilliant weather for the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of a new General Post Office, which was performed by the Duke of York. His Royal Highness, accompanied by the Duchess, arrived from Birmingham at 12.30, and was escorted from the Lime Street Station to the site of the new offices. After laying the foundation stone, the Duke and Duchess drove to the Town Hall, and took lunch. Two hundred guests were present. The Duke, after acknowledging the toast of the "Prince and Princess of Wales," made a speech in which he thanked the inhabitants of Liverpool for the enthusiastic welcome which they had given to him and his—his first—visit to the city. His Royal Highness referred to the fast passages now made by Atlantic liners, and compared them with the slow and longer journeys of a few years back, remarking that the fine vessels which accomplished those fast passages were English ships, but English seamanship and enterprise commanded by Englishmen. The Royal party then proceeded to the Exchange, a balcony overlooking the Exchange, where they received an address which was renewed during the drive to St. George's Hall. An address of welcome to the Duke and Duchess was also there presented to their Royal Highnesses, together with the wedding present—a splendid service of silver—from the citizens. Then, after the address to the donors and those present, the Duke and Duchess drove to Newham House, where they remained all night.

LABOUR UNION SCANDAL

DEATHS OF CENTENARIANS.

The papers contain intimations or the mortality of two centenarians—Mr. Hawkes, of Measly, whose years were nearly 102, and Mrs. Barry, of Ballylongane, who went twelve better. Both retained their mental faculties to the last, but whereas Mr. Hawkes was a foe to tobacco, his senior smacked very freely. Both were temperate. By reason of his type, Mr. Barry's longevity will, we expect, be the more popular. But why did he dwell at Ballylongane? Ballylongane'wenid be a more suitable place of residence.

A NOVEL SCENE.

MARRIAGE IN THE WINTERTIDE OF LIFE.

A novel marriage, which excited much interest, has just taken place at Liversedge, Yorks, the contracting parties being a saw-grinder, aged 82, and a widow of seventy-three. The bridegroom appeared in his working attire, and was provided with the clean-shave; whilst the bride was attired in a black dress, rolled up at the sleeves, and a red cotton handkerchief on her head. The bride was given away by a umbrella mender, and the "bridesmaid" was a widow of about seventy.

ALL ABOUT A RABBIT.

LIVELY SCENE AT MISTLEY POLICE COURT.

On Monday, at Mistley Petty Sessions, William Harvey, a gardener, in the employ of Canon Norman, Manningtree, was charged with unlawfully wounding a rabbit at Mistley on August 9th.—Daniel Edwards, the complainant, before giving his evidence, said that he had received a threatening letter in reference to the case from a gentleman in Court.—Mr. Seif rose and said he denied it on his oath, and a lively discussion was commencing when the Bench ruled it out of order.—The complainant, continuing, said that on Sunday two weeks he found a dog, Lida trade mark, worrying a rabbit, which they injured. In reply to the Bench, he said that defendant well knew that it was a tame rabbit.—Defendant: I did not. I have none to hold those views in our ranks. But we have men who hold the

THE GATHERING OF THE HOPS

PROSPECTS OF THE HARVEST IN KENT.

Hop-picking will not be general in Kent for another week, and in some places will not commence for another ten days. The warm weather of the week before last brought on the hops well, but during last week the rain and cold nights have arrested development. Growers agree, however, that there has not been such a splendid show for many years. The average yield per acre is estimated at from half a ton to twelve hundredweight. The pose of the hop is excellent, it is stated, has already yielded 2,700 bushels per acre.

ASSAULTING A STEPMOTHER AT EYE.

HIS MEALS WERE NEVER READY.

At the Eye Borough Court on Saturday, Ernest Collins, a young butcher, was charged with assaulting his stepmother on the last inst.—Prosecutrix deposed that defendant came to dinner, and because the meal was not ready he became very abusive, and eventually struck her a violent blow on the eye.—Defendant pleaded in extenuation that his meals were never ready when he went home, and, as his time was limited, this greatly annoyed him.—Fined £1, including costs, or, in default, 14 days' imprisonment.

MYSTERIOUS HORSE POISONING AT CROYDON.

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE REVEALED.

On Monday a communication was received at Croydon from Mr. Chester Beattie, Professor of Veterinary College, giving the result of an analysis which has been made of the food and portions of the intestines of three horses belonging to Mr. W. G. Grimwade, J.P., of Croham House, South Croydon. Son of the late Alfred Grimwade) which were found dead in their stables, by their groom, on last week's Thursday morning. He enclosed the presence of a large quantity of arsenic in the intestines of the animals, and also in the remains of the food. Mr. Grimwade, J.P., had ever since been in communication with the police, and the matter was placed in the hands of Detective-sergeant Fenton, the divisional inspector in the police. Here he was bright and jovial and referred with pleasure to his approaching marriage. He saw his young lady friend to Balham and Bat her a little after seven o'clock. A porter at Balham Station saw the Thicken jump in front of a train; he literally "jumped at his death." Death must have been instantaneous. The Jury returned a verdict of "Suicide while mentally deranged."

SUSPENDED FROM A LABOURER AT SUDBURY.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

A SERIES OF MISHAPS.

On Sunday morning Mr. David Cardy, of London, who is staying at Mr. Norman's, East Street, Sudbury, was coming downstairs in the dark when he fell from the top-stairs, and was severely injured.—On Monday afternoon, about five o'clock, a sign-writer, who happened to Mr. James Parsonage, basketmaker, North Street, Sudbury, was descending a step-down or ladder which leads to his bedroom, and when on the top stave his foot slipped through, and he fell backwards, his left arm striking the floor. Dr. Blake Bacon was passing at the time, and heard moaning and cries for help. Entering the house he found Mr. Parsonage lying extended on the floor. Dr. Bacon, Mr. Macro, and Councillor Constable were ultimately successful in rescuing Parsonson from his perilous position.—On Tuesday morning, Mr. Wilson Cassell, of Sudbury, in company with Mr. Ephraim Cooper, was driving to Great Waldingfield, they came into COLLISION WITH A HORSE AND TUMBREL.

Both occupants of the trap were pitched into the road. Mr. Andrews hurt his arm, leg, and finger. On looking round he perceived Mr. Cassell lying full length, prostrate, fearfully injured. The horse and trap on its way till it was stopped near Mr. Carlton's farm. Mr. Cassell was badly cut about the head, and considerable concussion caused it to be taken home. The rumour spread that Mr. Cassell was fatally injured.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING IN SURREY.

SUFFOLK GUESTS.

A pretty wedding was solemnised on the 6th inst., at Stepperton-on-Thames parish church, between Violet Louisa Clare, youngest daughter of Mr. John Russell, of the Lodge, Hailford, and niece of Col. S. Smyth, of Alderbrook, and Woodbridge, Suffolk, and Lieutenant Clare, Lincoln's Inn. The officiating clergy were the Revs. C. Littledale and Selwyn Rudge. A GLIMPSE OF LIBERAL ELECTIONEERING.

HOW TO SMUGGLE VOTES.

A FRIVOLOUS CLAIM AT IPSWICH.

AN AGENT'S EXTRAORDINARY STATEMENT.

At the County Hall, Ipswich, on Tuesday morning, before Mr. Carlos Cooper, one of the revising barristers for Suffolk, the Liberals, by the admission of one of their agents, showed the manner in which they try to swell the votes of their adherents. The claim under notice was an absolutely frivolous one, and should never have been brought before the Court at all. It was as follows:—Mr. Fison objected to the claim of Mr. Thomas Brentnall, as the "occupier" of a house near the Church Gates, Bramford. The fact was that Mr. Brentnall said he had "occupied" the house four years, but he had not slept in it at all, the explanation being that it was the home for his wife's sister (Honour Brown.) He paid the rent, and he partly furnished the house, and he claimed that, legally, he had occupied it for four years. It was not for him, his wife's sister could not afford to live in the house by herself. Mr. Brentnall was sworn and had a vote in respect of that occupation.—Mr. Allport (to witness): To whom does the furniture in the house belong?—Mr. Brentnall: To me, and partly to another sister of my wife.—Has Honour Brown any right to live there except by your permission?—Yes, she is a spare bedroom in my wife's house, in which you could sleep if you cared?—Yes.—The rent is paid by you?—Yes.—Mr. Allport thereupon submitted that Mr. Brentnall had not slept in the house,

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE AT IPSWICH.

MAN FOUND WITH HIS THROAT CUT.

Last evening, George England, a man residing in Nottidge Road, Ipswich, was found in his own house with a three-cut gash in his throat, apparently the result of a determined attempt to commit suicide. Dr. Eadie ordered the man's removal to the East Suffolk Hospital, and at a late hour his condition was reported to be critical.

IPSWICH C GAS STOCK.

£4,000 SOLD FOR £7,323.

Messrs. Garrod, Turner, and Sons issued by auction on Thursday last, by direction of the Directors of the Ipswich Gas Company, £4,000 worth of 3 per C Stock in this Company, which was created paid on the C Stock for the last few years has been at the rate of 8¾ per cent. Mr. Hugh Turner, who conducted the sale, made but very few preliminary remarks, saying that the Company was so well known that it was quite unnecessary to enlarge upon the merits of the stock. The result to investment, and the auctioneer's words were proved by the result of the sale. Mr. Turner stated the reserve fund of the Company bore a greater proportion to the amount of the capital than any of the London Companies possessed. The Stock was offered in lots of £10. The 400 lots realised from £318 to £319 17s. per lot, and all were disposed of within an hour. The buyers included: Mr. Rowland T. Cobbold, of Dunham Hall, Mr. E. Tempest, Ipswich, Mr. Harold Varley, Walton, Mr. Charles Dawson, Nacton, Mr. Alfred Porter, Mr. A. Gibb, Mr. C. Wright, Ipswich, Mr. R. Paterson, Mr. F. W. Sage, and Mr. G. S. Clarke (one of the directors), all of Ipswich. The total amount realised was £7,323, equal to £18 6s. per £10.

MR. E. BLAKE IN THE REVISION COURT.

AMUSING CONTRETEMPS.

NO EXPENSES FOR A MONEYED MAN.

A rather interesting colloquy was heard in the Shire-Hall, Ipswich, on Tuesday, upon the lists of the parish of St. Helen's coming under the notice of Mr. Bertram Barrister. Mr. E. Blake, secretary to the Eastern Counties' Labour Federation, claimed in respect to two houses of which he was described as owner. He was objected to by the Conservatives, for whom Mr. W. M. Pixon, acted for the Woodbridge Division appeared. When Mr. Blake appeared to substantiate his claim, Mr. Pixon asked how many houses he claimed?—Mr. Blake: Two. Mr. Pixon: How long have you had them?—From November last.—How did you come by them? They were built by a builder.—Oh, by purchase.—Do you know much they were worth? About £400.—Mr. Blake's vote was allowed. He, however, applied for expenses which were not allowed. Mr. Pixon remarking that a gentleman who could afford to buy £400 worth of property ought to be able to bear his own expenses.

STRANGE AFFAIR NEAR IPSWICH.

A COLONEL'S MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

DREADFUL DISCOVERY AT EARLY MORN.

Early on Thursday morning a housemaid at Pannington Hall, two miles from Ipswich, was horrified to find the recumbent body of Colonel H. Green Wilkinson down the staircase with his head to the hall. She shook him, but he gave no answer. Everything in the hand she found it deathly cold. The truth then flashed across her mind. He was dead. The girl gave the alarm, and Mrs. Wilkinson came to him to his room. It was then seen that his gown was very much burnt, as well as the front of the body and face and neck. It appears that during the day the aged colonel—he was 72—complained of feeling unwell, and was advised to have medical assistance, but he didn't send for a doctor. Early this morning, it is supposed, he must have taken unwell, and while on the landing to descend the stairs he must have caught his clothes on fire with a candle. The theory is that, while endeavouring to put out the flames, he over-balanced himself on the stairs and fell over. No noise was heard during the night. The death, according to the evidence given at the inquest, seemed to point to shock of the system.

DEATH OF LADY GURDON

OF GRUNDISBURGH.

Genuine regret will be felt at the announcement of the death of Lady Gurdon, the wife of Sir Wm. Brampton Gurdon, of Grundisburgh Hall, which took place on Thursday. Her ladyship's association with Suffolk is of many years' standing, when she married Sir William Brampton Gurdon. In this brief period she spent her life in the county and gained the affectionate esteem of those with whom she came in contact. In all philanthropic objects she took a keen interest, and her personality was always at the disposal of her neighbours. Of a retiring disposition, she naturally shrank from the publicity of the platform; nevertheless her influence assisted her husband by her presence at many political meetings during his candidature for the representation of the Sudbury division. Her ladyship's health gave signs of good health up till July last year, when symptoms of internal disorder manifested themselves, and she went abroad for the benefit of her health. This failed to effect lasting benefit. The funeral will take place at Grundisburgh on Saturday next. Lady Gurdon, who was second daughter of the late Earl of Portsmouth, was about 32 years of age.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT IPSWICH.

The Ipswich Sunday School Union may certainly be congratulated upon the unqualified success of their novel festival held at the Corn Exchange on Wednesday and Thursday. The arrangements in the name of a compositive exhibition of fruit, flowers, plants, &c., by the various Sunday schools forming the Union. Each were entitled to a certain space to exhibit their exhibits in such a manner as their tastes and fancy dictated, and the result was certainly flattering to the committee. The principal challenge banner was contributed by Tanner's Lane School as the reward of premier position, but other handsome awards were marked for other marks of distinction:—Bramford Road, Turret Green, and Burlington Road. Other prizes for bouquets of flowers were awarded as under:—Wild flowers, 1, Miss Annie Graham, Stutton; 2, Miss Beatrice Fox, Stoke Green; 3, Miss Nelly Bradley, Presbyterian; and 4, Miss Florence Gladwell, Albert's Self, Burlington; 2, F. A. Wollaston, Turret Green; 3, Miss C. Graham, Stutton. Hand bouquet, under 15 years, 1, Ada Mann, Stoke Green; 2, Florence Ward, 1, Miss C. Graham, Stutton; 2, Miss Alice Hart, Stoke Green. Bread, 4lb. loaf, 1, Miss Mills, St. Clement's; 2, Thomas Rash, Stoke Green; h.c., Miss O.M. Downing and Miss Ada Brand (disqualified for a prize). Bread, children under 14 years, 1, Ellen Hart, Presbyterian; 2, Annie Gaypar, Bramford Road; h.c., Maud Denny. Fancy bread, ditto, 1, Ada Mary Green, Turret Green. The ladies' string class was arranged at intervals, and a competition for choirs ended in victories for the Ragged and Crown Street Schools. The products were sold during the exhibition.

MARRIAGE OF A NEEDHAM MARKET LADY.

LYWOOD—WELLS.

A wedding which attracted considerable attention from the people of Suffolk was solemnised at Barking Church on Thursday, when Miss M. May, daughter of W. Woodcock Wells, Q.C. of Longerville, Needham Market, and Lieut Lywood, R.M.L.I., were united in the bonds of matrimony. The parish church in which the bride's family is regarded in the district was demonstrated by the universal interest displayed in the marriage. The church was tastefully dressed with flags and bunting, and mottoes appropriate to "future happiness," and long before the hour fixed for the ceremony the church was filled to its utmost capacity, the congregation including representatives of the leading families for miles round. The sacred edifice was also tastefully decorated for the occasion and as the congregation assembled, the Rev. F. J. W. Whiting played a number of appropriate selections on the organ. The bride, who looked extremely pretty in a dress of rich white satin, with long train bordered with a fault of satin, was met at the entrance to the church by her six bridesmaids and the choirs of Needham and Barking. Inside the bride was received by a large congregation one, and generally admitted to be one of the most fashionable gatherings seen in Barking for some time past. The service was principally conducted by the Rev. V. Ellis, late of Stowmarket. Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock Wells subsequently held a reception at Longerville. The newly-married pair left for London, en route for the Isle of Wight, where the honeymoon will be spent.

ANOTHER ESSEX POACHING AFFRAY.

FEROCIOUS ATTACK ON A CRIPPLE.

On Tuesday morning the High Woods at Pilgrims Hatch, near Brentwood, were again the scene of a fierce struggle with poachers. Two months ago Police-constable Threlfall and two young veterinary students in London were attacked by a gang of eight poachers, and a desperate fight ensued, in which much loss of blood. Owing to the constable's life being threatened, the Chief of the Essex Constabulary issued an authority for the constable in the district to carry a loaded revolver. On Tuesday, a gamekeeper named George Cross, in the service of Mr. C. J. H. Tower, of Weald Hall, was passing through the woods when he came upon three men with ferrets, engaged in "working" rabbits' holes. Cross is middle-aged, and he has only one arm, a hook being substituted for his right arm. Finding that the men had several nets set, the gamekeeper picked up four of them and put them in his pocket, whereupon the poachers made and one of them dealt him a heavy blow in the face, apparently with a bludgeon. By this the hook was laid open, and his right eyelid was torn to such an extent that it fell over his eye and obscured the vision. The fighting gamekeeper required his legs, and set a terrier dog on his assailants, who eventually overpowered him, and, as they threatened to smash out his brains if he did not leave the spot, he withdrawhis babbled safely, and, with some difficulty, reached Police-constable Threlfall's house on the neighbouring village. The constable accompanied him, and before they reached the woods the gamekeeper began to faint from loss of blood that Threlfall had to help him at a roadside cottage. When the constable reached the woods the men had decamped. The gamekeeper's injuries are serious.

A FURIOUS RUSH AT HIM,

A GREAT SCHEME

UNFOLDED FOR IPSWICH.

PROPOSED BOULEVARDS, PIERS, AND DEEPENING OF THE RIVER.

MR. CATTERMOLE ATTACKS THE DOCK COMMISSIONERS,

WHO ARE NEARLY OUT-VOTED.

An important and far-reaching scheme for the widening of the channel of the Orwell, and generally improving the port of Ipswich was unfolded before the Ipswich Dock Commission at its monthly meeting yesterday, Mr. G. Culver Mason presiding. Mr. Robinson embodied his proposals in a resolution divided into five clauses, which briefly stated, proposed (1) to reclaim the waste land on the easterly banks of the Orwell, construct retaining walls with 50 feet promenade way from Cliff Road to Levington Creek; (2) construct a new pier 500 feet long for the accommodation of passenger steamers; (3) to deepen and widen the existing channel from Ipswich to Pin Mill, the material obtained to be used in the reclamation of the new promenade; to ask the Local Government Board to depute one of their medical inspectors to report upon the sanitary state of the river in view of the supposed pollution; and (5) to obtain statutory powers to raise a loan for carrying out the works. Mr. Robinson, in a lengthy and thoughtful speech, contended that there was nothing unreasonable about his proposals, although at first sight they might be considered as a large order. It was a question to do something to improve the present condition of the river, as it seemed to him a waste of money to continue spending £4,000 a year in dredging, as they were doing without any DEFINITE OR PRECONCEIVED OBJECT.

Having confessed that such improvement had been made in the river during the past 10 years, the speaker contended that if the Commission had had a definite scheme in view they could have accomplished it, as then advocating would have now been effected. At low water mark the waste land on the west side of the river was full of mud flats and Spirits, Roods and Oil, that that land belonged to certain owners he had no doubt about their being able to arrange terms. As to the latter, Mr. Robinson calculated that during the summer 100,000 people passed down the river by steamboat, and on that ground he thought it their duty to provide better accommodation than the existing. Coming to the deepening of the channel the speaker condemned the present system as obsolete and inadequate to the demands upon them, and strongly urged the necessity of this part of his proposal being carried out only by the promoters of the above scheme for navigating the Gipping as far as Stowmarket to proceed, as experience had proved that an improved channel meant increased traffic and consequently greater revenue. With regard to the fourth clause—the supposed contamination of the river—Mr. Robinson withdrew the resolution of which he gave notice a month ago, which had reference to a report presented by a Local Government Board Inspector to the Health Committee of the Corporation. The pollution of the river was undoubtedly an open question, but the reason was the river was certainly not at all pleasant. (Laughter.)

THE COST

of the proposed undertaking was the part of the speech which naturally attracted most attention. Mr. Robinson set it down at £50,000, and argued that if the scheme took ten years to accomplish, that would only mean an expenditure of £5,000 per annum, or very little more than was now spent by the Commission promiscously, while the profit from the increased traffic consequent upon an improved channel would assist to lessen the burden of taxation. What he suggested was the consolidation of the whole of the loans at present held by the Corporation, the saving on which would go towards defraying the cost by an easy method. He might perhaps be told that his idea was Utopian. Well, all ideas were Utopian until they were put into practice. (Applause.)—Mr. Catterall, who hardly agreed with a single proposal of Mr. Robinson's, seconded the resolution on the ground that "anyone who could towards a large expenditure was worthy of the thanks and applause Mr. Robinson had received." (Loud laughter.)—Mr. Moir moved an amendment that it was inexpedient to adopt the scheme. While admitting to the excellence of Mr. Robinson's proposals, he thought it unwise to ask the Management Committee to consider points that there was no possibility of carrying out. Moreover, he thought the work would cost nearer £200,000 than £50,000.—Inverting to Mr. Robinson's remarks about the pollution of the river, Mr. Jarvis, who said he held Dr. Weston's original report to the Health Committee in his hand, stated that that document did not contain a single reference to the condition of the river. In fact, Dr. Weston had inspected the river at the request of the Board, and he so satisfied with the sewage works that the Local Government Board had sanctioned the loan for the Marsh sewerage. Mr. Robinson added that all the questions Mr. Robinson had dealt with came before the Management in one form or another almost every meeting.—Mr. Short (Eye), speaking for the county people, supported the resolution, and thought the improvement of the river was advantageous to the county as well as to Ipswich; while as to the impurity of the Orwell he thought there was not so much doubt. (Hear, hear.) —Mr. Robinson briefly replied to the arguments of his opponents, and in answer to Mr. Jervis said he protested at the meeting of the Health Committee that the original report of the Local Government Board inspector was withheld. He again contended that the statements he made at the last meeting were a fair reflex of what Dr. Weston said as he (Mr. Robinson) took down his words in writing. The vote was ultimately taken, the amendment being carried by the narrow majority of two—10 to 8.

STIR UP THE MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

EYE CHARITIES.

APPRENTICES' GRANTS.

At a meeting of Trustees of the Eye Municipal Charities, held at the Town Hall, on Tuesday, Dr. Barnes presiding, four applications were received for Small's Gratuity, which provides for boys leaving boys born in Eye some trade or handicraft. Those Thomas Loy, Harry Eyre, and John Turner, were received on account of their proficiency shown in their exhibits in such a manner as their tastes and fancy dictated, and the result was certainly flattering to the competitors. The challenge banner was unanimously carried by Tanner's Lace School as the reward of premier position, but other handsome awards were marked for other marks of distinction:—Bramford Road, Turret Green, and Burlington Road. A NEW IPSWICH VICAR.

NOVEL PARISH PRIVILEGE.

Few parishes possess the right to elect their vicar, but St. Mary Elms, Ipswich, is one of the few. After the resignation of the Rev. J. D. Kenyon-Stow, the parochwardens, Messrs. Fraser and Cattermole, and Mr. Frater, received a number of applications for the living, and, after careful consideration, reduced the candidates to four. These were submitted to a vestry meeting on Thursday, when Mr. Walton Turner presided. The Chairman proposed the election of the Rev. A. W. Mandeville. This was seconded by Mr. Fraser, and carried unanimously. It is anticipated that the election will meet with general support throughout the parish. The Rev. L. D. Kenyon-Stow vacates the living on the 30th instant.

GARDEN SHOW AT YOXFORD.

A SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL.

On Thursday week Stratford, Cotton, and Middleton show, was revived amid most auspicious surroundings. There was a large attendance, and the show was in every sense a complete success. There is no doubt that, encouraged by the result of Thursday's show that the event will become an annual one. The show at one period was very popular one, but on the enthusiasm waning, the show sank out of existence. Everyone must be glad to hear of its resuscitation, and every credit is due to W. Brown, Mr. Beatten, Mr. Bushley, Capt. W. Wilmer, Mr. R. Flick, and Mr. H. Gunn. There was a large number of entries, and bearing in mind the large exhibits were of the first produce of the exhibitors, the promoters have good reason to congratulate themselves in regard to the continuance of an experiment so fraught with favourable results.
